

OBJECTIVE OF THE FDP

This program aims to develop faculty for the unique behavioral and instructional skills and other required competencies to teach online effectively. To take up the new roles of digital educators, faculty need to be well-equipped with the new KSAs, strategies for online student engagement, flexible curriculum design and content delivery, and moreover, maintaining a high level of motivation during online teaching. This program will train faculty in coping with the new dynamics of stress and maintaining positive mental health during this abrupt shift to teach online. Overall, the program promises to impart skills in developing a positive teaching outlook and achieving increased satisfaction at both ends in this process.

ABOUT MNIT

Malaviya National Institute of Technology (MNIT), Jaipur is one of the NITs established by Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India. The Institute, earlier known as MREC, was established in 1963 as a joint venture of the state and central Governments. Later in 2002, the college was given the status of National Institute of Technology and on August 15, 2007, proclaimed Institute of National Importance through Act of Parliament. MNIT campus spreads over 325 acres of lush green area in the prime location of Jaipur city. The Institute has completed its Golden Jubilee year 2012-13 and as a part of year-long celebrations of its 50 years of teaching and excellence, various academic activities were organized. At present, in addition to research, consultancy and developmental activities, the Institute offers UG and PG (M. Tech. /M.Sc. & Ph.D.) level courses to about 5000 students in almost all leading fields of engineering, technology, management and sciences.
