A report of
Online workshop on 'The possibilities of bibliometric analyses for Scholars'
Organized on 20 March 2021

An online workshop on 'The possibilities of bibliometric analyses for Scholars' was organised by the department of Humanities and Social Sciences under the aegis of HUM PALS-an initiative for engaged learning. It was conducted by Dr. Bhavna Pandey, Assistant Professor, Amity Business School, Mumbai. The aim of the workshop was to give participants a sound overview of bibliometric methods, performance indicators and tools & techniques related to bibliometric analysis and mapping.

This workshop was an exceptional opportunity for igniting scholars' mind to enhance their research skills. The facilitator enlightened the research scholars on bibliometric methods, performance indicators and tools & techniques related to bibliometric analysis and mapping in an understandable and coherent manner. Dr. Pandey's comprehensible knowledge of the subject chiselled the essential concepts of publishing in journals which are indexed in Scopus, ABDC and ABS levels. Her personal anecdotes and snippets from her research career made the session leisurely and interactive. Theoretically imparted knowledge was also consolidated with hands-on trainings and questions were answered in a very logical and comprehensible manner throughout the session. An e-memento was presented to the expert as a token of appreciation and session concluded with a vote of thanks and group photograph.

A total of 77 research scholars registered and enthusiastically participated in the workshop. The workshop was coordinated by Prof. Manju Singh, HOD, Department of Humanities and Social Sciences and Dr. Nidhi Bansal, Assistant Professor, Department of Humanities and Social Sciences.
